In Flanders Fields BY JOHN MCCRAE

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie,
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe: To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

She has spoken at national, state, and local genealogy events and conferences including RootsTech, NGS, FGS, and frequently at OGS. She specializes in lineage society applications, publishing family books, Midwestern research specifically Ohio, but she also has experience in Germany, Denmark, and the U.K. She also reviews military repatriation cases and is part of the Mayflower Silver books team. She has received numerous awards for her books and volunteer efforts. She belongs to several lineage societies including ISDUP, USDAR, USD 1812, and Colonial Dames. Beth Sanders is our June speaker.

Beth Sanders is a local entrepreneur that helps people tell their life stories, through her company, LifeBio. In 2020, the company also rolled out a service called MyHello that connects people by phone for social engagement. Beth’s family tree goes back to the Mayflower and Revolutionary War days. Through some of her father’s life story and the rocky road her family trod, she will share some of her own legacy and why it matters so deeply to her to help others tap into their own incredible backgrounds and genealogies. She will also share some practical examples of how LifeBio helps those who are seeking support and affordable ways to write a book for their own family.

Respectively submitted, Marie Bouic, Recording Secretary

From the desk of the librarian.

I received the Hardin County Genealogy Society newsletter asking for help from other genealogy enthusiasts. In their 19 years of operation they have accumulated enough material to fill three buildings. If this was not enough this winter they took possession of two shelves of books containing early Roundhead Township records as well as many of the records of the Hardin County Board of Education. The material from the Board of Education filled a pickup bed plus a trailer. Some of the records are organized and searchable, but many need to be organized. They could use some volunteers to help organize all the materials recently received. If you would be interested in helping please contact the following:
